Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Pickens Sponsor First Dinner Served in Marland’s Formal Dining Room in 75 Years

Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.

"Something happened last weekend in Ponca City that hasn’t occurred in seventy-five years. On Saturday, December 10 a formal dinner took place in E. W. Marland’s private dining room at the Marland Mansion for the first time since 1941. A party of twelve guests was served dinner in the Marland Mansion Estate by Terron Liles, Chairman of the 2016 Marland Gala, made every effort to create the ambiance of “Downton Abbey” as they enter the Marland Mansion.

Dinner guests acknowledge their hostess Dr. S. J. Pickens as she prepares to say grace.